

DAILY COURIER.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY THE
LOUISVILLE COURIER PRINTING COMPANY.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

DAILY COURIER per year.....$5.00
DAILY COURIER for the Country.....$6.00
five copies to one year.....$25.00 ten copies $35; four copies $5; ten copies $10; two years copies $20.

FOR EACH COPY, FIVE CENTS, unless paid for in advance, or $2.50 for a year, or $12.50 for two years.

STATE ELECTION, AUGUST 1, 1859.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS

FOR GOVERNOR,
HON. BERIAH MAGOFFIN, of Mercer.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR,
HON. LYNN BOYD, of McCracken.

AUDITOR,
GRANT GREENE, of Henderson.

TREASURER,
JAMES H. GALLAGHER, of Franklin.

SUPERINTENDENT PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
ROBERT RICHARDSON, of Kenton.

REGISTER LAND OFFICE,
THOMAS J. FRASER, of Breathitt.

PRESIDENT BOARD INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS,
JAMES F. BATES, of Barren.

ATTORNEY GENERAL,
A. J. JAMES, of Franklin.

FOR CONGRESS—SEVENTH DISTRICT,
COL. THOS. H. HOLT, of Louisville.

FOR THE SENATE,
W. G. REASOR, First Vice Warden, Louisville.

L. L. HATT, Seventh and Eighth Wards and Jefferson.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE,
HON. DAVID MCWILLIAMS, of Jefferson County.

W. H. COOPER, of Covington.

JOHN CROXTON, First and Second Wards.

J. L. COOPER, Third and Fourth Wards.

No nomination in Seventh and Eighth Wards.

LOUISVILLE:

MONDAY, JULY 18, 1859.

Reading Matter on Every Page.

The "Old Boy" of the Louisville Journal.

The Louisville Journal, to the astonishment of those intelligent, patriotic and conservative Black Republicans with whom it proposed to form a Great National Union Party, by combining with them the South Americans and giving every scrap of principle on the part of either, has received a hearty ovation.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a State in the Union composed of free negroes, and if they had the right to vote, I would be compelled to give up my right to vote, and to do so, I am sure, with a hearty and unanimous voice." I put the question to him, which I propounded awhile ago in your hearing, from the remarks which I read, he was very glad to receive any aid in rescue him from his difficulties, and said to me, "I would rather be beaten than rescue aid from that quarter."

And the editor of the Journal, when he published this speech, accompanied it with the following full, unrevised, and sweeping editorial indorsement:

We yield nearly the whole of our available space, to the speech of Hon. John M. Botts, to the effect that he would give up his right to vote, if he had the right to do so.

The speech, we need not say, is a highly eloquent and effective one. It is strong, stirring, and sterling. It is characteristic in an eminent degree, and a speech as Botts knows how to make it just as any other speech can be.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of

February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a State in the Union composed of free negroes, and if they had the right to vote, I would be compelled to give up my right to vote, and to do so, I am sure, with a hearty and unanimous voice." I put the question to him, which I propounded awhile ago in your hearing, from the remarks which I read, he was very glad to receive any aid in rescue him from his difficulties, and said to me, "I would rather be beaten than rescue aid from that quarter."

And the editor of the Journal, when he published this speech, accompanied it with the following full, unrevised, and sweeping editorial indorsement:

We yield nearly the whole of our available space, to the speech of Hon. John M. Botts, to the effect that he would give up his right to vote, if he had the right to do so.

The speech, we need not say, is a highly eloquent and effective one. It is strong, stirring, and sterling. It is characteristic in an eminent degree, and a speech as Botts knows how to make it just as any other speech can be.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of

February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a State in the Union composed of free negroes, and if they had the right to vote, I would be compelled to give up my right to vote, and to do so, I am sure, with a hearty and unanimous voice." I put the question to him, which I propounded awhile ago in your hearing, from the remarks which I read, he was very glad to receive any aid in rescue him from his difficulties, and said to me, "I would rather be beaten than rescue aid from that quarter."

And the editor of the Journal, when he published this speech, accompanied it with the following full, unrevised, and sweeping editorial indorsement:

We yield nearly the whole of our available space, to the speech of Hon. John M. Botts, to the effect that he would give up his right to vote, if he had the right to do so.

The speech, we need not say, is a highly eloquent and effective one. It is strong, stirring, and sterling. It is characteristic in an eminent degree, and a speech as Botts knows how to make it just as any other speech can be.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of

February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a State in the Union composed of free negroes, and if they had the right to vote, I would be compelled to give up my right to vote, and to do so, I am sure, with a hearty and unanimous voice." I put the question to him, which I propounded awhile ago in your hearing, from the remarks which I read, he was very glad to receive any aid in rescue him from his difficulties, and said to me, "I would rather be beaten than rescue aid from that quarter."

And the editor of the Journal, when he published this speech, accompanied it with the following full, unrevised, and sweeping editorial indorsement:

We yield nearly the whole of our available space, to the speech of Hon. John M. Botts, to the effect that he would give up his right to vote, if he had the right to do so.

The speech, we need not say, is a highly eloquent and effective one. It is strong, stirring, and sterling. It is characteristic in an eminent degree, and a speech as Botts knows how to make it just as any other speech can be.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of

February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a State in the Union composed of free negroes, and if they had the right to vote, I would be compelled to give up my right to vote, and to do so, I am sure, with a hearty and unanimous voice." I put the question to him, which I propounded awhile ago in your hearing, from the remarks which I read, he was very glad to receive any aid in rescue him from his difficulties, and said to me, "I would rather be beaten than rescue aid from that quarter."

And the editor of the Journal, when he published this speech, accompanied it with the following full, unrevised, and sweeping editorial indorsement:

We yield nearly the whole of our available space, to the speech of Hon. John M. Botts, to the effect that he would give up his right to vote, if he had the right to do so.

The speech, we need not say, is a highly eloquent and effective one. It is strong, stirring, and sterling. It is characteristic in an eminent degree, and a speech as Botts knows how to make it just as any other speech can be.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of

February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a State in the Union composed of free negroes, and if they had the right to vote, I would be compelled to give up my right to vote, and to do so, I am sure, with a hearty and unanimous voice." I put the question to him, which I propounded awhile ago in your hearing, from the remarks which I read, he was very glad to receive any aid in rescue him from his difficulties, and said to me, "I would rather be beaten than rescue aid from that quarter."

And the editor of the Journal, when he published this speech, accompanied it with the following full, unrevised, and sweeping editorial indorsement:

We yield nearly the whole of our available space, to the speech of Hon. John M. Botts, to the effect that he would give up his right to vote, if he had the right to do so.

The speech, we need not say, is a highly eloquent and effective one. It is strong, stirring, and sterling. It is characteristic in an eminent degree, and a speech as Botts knows how to make it just as any other speech can be.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of

February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a State in the Union composed of free negroes, and if they had the right to vote, I would be compelled to give up my right to vote, and to do so, I am sure, with a hearty and unanimous voice." I put the question to him, which I propounded awhile ago in your hearing, from the remarks which I read, he was very glad to receive any aid in rescue him from his difficulties, and said to me, "I would rather be beaten than rescue aid from that quarter."

And the editor of the Journal, when he published this speech, accompanied it with the following full, unrevised, and sweeping editorial indorsement:

We yield nearly the whole of our available space, to the speech of Hon. John M. Botts, to the effect that he would give up his right to vote, if he had the right to do so.

The speech, we need not say, is a highly eloquent and effective one. It is strong, stirring, and sterling. It is characteristic in an eminent degree, and a speech as Botts knows how to make it just as any other speech can be.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of

February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a State in the Union composed of free negroes, and if they had the right to vote, I would be compelled to give up my right to vote, and to do so, I am sure, with a hearty and unanimous voice." I put the question to him, which I propounded awhile ago in your hearing, from the remarks which I read, he was very glad to receive any aid in rescue him from his difficulties, and said to me, "I would rather be beaten than rescue aid from that quarter."

And the editor of the Journal, when he published this speech, accompanied it with the following full, unrevised, and sweeping editorial indorsement:

We yield nearly the whole of our available space, to the speech of Hon. John M. Botts, to the effect that he would give up his right to vote, if he had the right to do so.

The speech, we need not say, is a highly eloquent and effective one. It is strong, stirring, and sterling. It is characteristic in an eminent degree, and a speech as Botts knows how to make it just as any other speech can be.

We esteem it a piece of especial good fortune, a most auspicious coincidence, indeed, that we have received it in season to lay it before the assembled people of the Opposition, and to show them.

We commend its earnest and decisive exposition of public affairs to the thoughtful attention of the whole country. Our sentiments on the various topics it discusses are well known. It expresses them well.

Now let us see who is right. On the 22d of

February last, the very day that the Opposition Convention met in this city, the Louisville Journal, as it imparts the delegations favorably to Black Republicans, if not Free Negroes, published a speech made by John M. Botts, before the Virginia Opposition Convention, which contains the following:

It has not been very long ago that a gentleman somewhat prominent in the ranks of the Free State party, when I met him, said to me, "Mr. Botts, I have a question to you; if you have no objection?" Certainly not, "I want to know," said he, "if you are in favor of a coalition with the Black Republicans?" "I am in favor of a coalition," said I, "but I don't wish you to misunderstand me; I wish to say that if there was a

REAPING, MOWING, AND Threshing Machines,

W^o are now prepared for the harvest, & the most approved patterns of Reaping and Threshing Machines, Wheat, Corn, Hay, & other Crops. Peter & BUCHANAN, Louisville, Ky.

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, M^Y 11th

PRICES, SENT BY MAIL ON APPLICATION.

BY TELEGRAPH.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER WESER.

New York, July 16.—The British steamer Weser has arrived, with London dates of 4th inst.

The German Diet has agreed to the proposition of Prussia to place a corps of observation on the Rhine.

Disturbances have occurred at Messina.

A French division has been sent to join Prince

Dispatches from Vienna, dated the 3d inst, Pescara.

TO THE STATE OF KENTUCKY.

Mr. A. M. Gandy is a candidate for re-election as Auditor of public accounts. My past official conduct is the only cause that can affect the election.

THOS. S. PAGE

CANDIDATES.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

W^o WHITE, a Gentleman, has been nominated as a candidate for the Legislature.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Democratic candidate for the Lower House of the General Assembly of Kentucky, for the term of two years.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

Mr. A. M. Gandy is a candidate for re-election as Auditor of public accounts. My past official conduct is the only cause that can affect the election.

THOS. S. PAGE

JEFFERSON FEMALE ACADEMY.

DETROIT, K. Y.

THE TWELFTH Session of this institution will commence on MONDAY, Sept. 5th, 1859.

The pupils can be accommodated in the family of Mr. & Mrs. G. W. ADAMS.

Principal.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE.

DETROIT, K. Y.

July 1.—Gen. Garibaldi is endeavoring to close the whole valley of the Adige, in order to isolate Verona and cut off the Austrian communication with the Tyrol. Gen. Garibaldi is at Bassano.

The English troops had surrounded Peschiera.

The U. S. Army from Wabash has sailed from Trieste for Messina, in consequence of the disturbances that have taken place there.

A French squadron of six ships of the line, with 1,500 men, and many gunboats, were seen off of Corinto, 50 miles from the latter.

It was not the usual sailing hour now in, or, rooms.

July 12.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A comfortable dwelling house, and garden, with 8 or 9 streets, occupied at present by W. H. STEWART.

Apply to Thomas G. COOPER, Esq., Kentucky and Louisville Insurance Office, Fifth Street.

JOHN C. COOPER.

APOLLO HALL FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—A ground lease, with or without furniture, just as you please, for a sum to be agreed upon.

Tuesday, July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A comfortable dwelling house, and garden, with 8 or 9 streets, occupied at present by W. H. STEWART.

Apply to Thomas G. COOPER, Esq., Kentucky and Louisville Insurance Office, Fifth Street.

JOHN C. COOPER.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, on an acre, fully a story, brick walls, with a front hall, kitchen and servant's room, stable, carriage house, and a front porch.

It is in the most excellent condition.

July 10.—A. C. DAUDRY.

FOR SALE.—A very desirable house and lot, in the corner of

